1. Introduction

Pursuant to Act 499 of the 2016 Regular Session of the Louisiana Legislature, the Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice serves as the central coordinating agency for adult and juvenile correctional systems; in conjunction with the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, youth services of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, the sheriffs of the state, and local juvenile justice officials.

2. Overview of Populations

In 2017, the Louisiana Department of Public Safety and Corrections was responsible for an average of 35,001 inmates. In 2017, there was a one percent reduction in the overall corrections population from the 2016 population. State facilities experienced a 0.90 percent reduction; local jail populations increased by 1.06 percent; and Contract Transitional Work Program increased by 1.04 percent from the 2016 population.

3. State and Local Facilities

As of December 2017, there are more than 35,000 offenders serving time for state felonies. Louisiana does not have the capacity to house all of these offenders in state correctional facilities. Capacity of state facilities is under 19,000; therefore, the state relies upon parish and private facilities throughout Louisiana to house and care for offenders.

4. Transitional Work Programs

Transitional Work Program (TWP) is for offenders that can enter this program from six months to four years prior to release from incarceration, depending on the offense of conviction. Generally, sex offenders are precluded from participation in the transitional work program. Offenders that are approved for the program are required to work at an approved job and when not working they must return to the structured environment of the assigned facility. Probation and Parole Officers are assigned monitoring responsibilities for contract TWP's. This may include conducting random drug screens and random shakedowns of the facility. TWP's are successful in assisting an offender with making the transition from prison back into the work force. Approximately 10 to 20 percent of offenders remain with their employer upon release. The TWP is also utilized as a valuable alternative for technical parole violators, in lieu of returning them to prison.

Benefits of TWP's are placement of an offender in a TWP is much more cost effective than traditional incarceration. Offenders become taxpayers, not tax consumers and are able to pay victim restitution, child support, court costs and fines. A long-range reentry objective involves increasing the TWP beds. (See Table 18 for a list of Transitional Work Programs facilities).

5. Death Row Population

Louisiana uses capital punishment (death penalty) as a sentence for some of the most serious crimes. Capital punishment is a government-sanctioned practice where a person is put to death by the state as a punishment for a crime. Crimes that are punishable by capital punishment are known as capital crimes or capital offenses.

5. Lifer Population

Lifer Population also known as Life Imprisonment, Imprisonment for Life, Life in Prison, Life Sentence, Life Term, Lifelong Incarceration, or Life Incarceration; is a sentence of imprisonment for a crime under which convicted persons are to remain in prison either for the rest of their natural life or until parole.

7. Youthful Offender Population

The Youthful Offender Program is designed to provide an environment where youthful offenders can develop self-esteem, self-discipline, and positive attitudes along with the cognitive skills necessary to re-enter society and be successful. The program provides tailored case management plans to meet the specific needs of each youthful offender as well as to create or repair family relationships. Youthful offenders must be 19 years of age or younger to participate in the program. Eligible offenders must also have five years or less to their earliest release date. Youthful offenders 16 years of age or younger will participate in the program regardless of sentence length. The program is based on voluntary enrollment and will last for a minimum of 12 months.

9. Reentry Initiatives

The Department's reentry initiatives began to be developed in 2001 through the Corrections Organized for Reentry (CORE) initiative. They are constantly building on that foundation to strengthen the probability that offenders returning to Louisiana's communities will succeed and become productive law-abiding citizens. The initiative also recognizes the need for public and community support from all sectors, including faith-based organizations, employers, treatment providers, education, victims, housing, criminal justice agencies, etc. We must continue to develop and strengthen existing partnerships and identify new partners in a collaborative approach to offender reentry.

The Department, in collaboration with Sheriffs, opened 9 Regional Reentry Programs to offer the Department's Standardized Pre-Release Curriculum 2010 and Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Programs (CTRP), which allow offenders to learn basic work readiness preparation, money management, substance abuse education and treatment, parenting, anger management, and other life skills prior to discharge.

10. Regional Reentry Programs / Transitional Work Program Facilities

The goal of the Department's Reentry Initiative is to significantly reduce crime and enhance public safety through reentry programs at all facilities that house state offenders. These reentry programs will provide a seamless plan of services and supervision developed with each offender and will be delivered through state and local collaboration from the time of the offender's entry to prison through their transition, community reintegration, and aftercare.

The key elements that contribute to reduced recidivism, (and therefore the key elements of offender reentry strategies), are:

1. Assessment of criminogenic needs using validated instruments;
2. Addressing Risk, Needs, and Responsivity through structured case planning and programming that addresses:
  - a. Basic education and job skills training;
  - b. Substance abuse treatment;
  - c. Values development; and
  - d. Developing strong, public safety conscious discharge plans.

The department has established 9 Regional Reentry Programs across the state since 2016. These regional reentry programs operate in conjunction with local sheriffs and are designed to reach those offenders who are within one year of release (or Transitional Work Program assignment), and returning to a specific region. This regionalized approach enhances the program's ability to engage community supports, such as treatment providers, educational opportunities, as well as family and faith-based programs (see Table 10: Regional Reentry Programming). Each Regional Reentry Program provides participants with the Standardized Pre-Release Curriculum 2010, two forms of identification, residence and employment plans, as well as connection to needed post-release resources in the community. Allen Correctional Center is now a Regional Reentry Center that operates under the State of Louisiana Department of Corrections.

- Minimum of 600 participant completions annually per site
- Program duration varies by site from 30 days to 90 days

11. Standardized Pre-release Curriculum

Louisiana R.S. 15:827.1 mandates 100 hours of pre-release training prior to being released. Participation is mandatory by law for all offenders releasing from prison. Offenders begin participating in a 100-hour release preparation program at least 6 months prior to their earliest release date, but may begin as early as one year prior to the work release eligibility date. Generally, this program is mandatory for all offenders without serious medical or mental health concerns assigned medium custody or lower. The program covers employment skills, job placement assistance, money management skills, values clarification, problem solving and decision making, personal development, counseling on individual community reentry concerns, reentry support services, anger management, and victim awareness and restitution. Release preparation also includes assisting offenders with obtaining valid identification documents, discharge planning, referrals or assistance with transitional housing, medical or mental health agencies and programs, processing applications for SSI and Medicaid benefits.

- In 2017, 7,360 offenders completed the Standard Pre-release Curriculum - 3,363 in-state institutions and 3,997 in parish facilities.

12. Certified Treatment and Rehabilitation Programs

Over the last decade, the Department organized and standardized programs and services in state prisons addressing criminogenic needs and to better prepare offenders for a successful reintegration into their communities. In 2010, as some local jails began to offer these programs to offenders, the Department instituted the “Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Program” certification process to insure the programs implemented in state prisons and local jails were evidence based and standardized. Offenders are provided the opportunity to participate in a variety of evidence-based programming designed to address the criminogenic risks and needs identified in their Reentry Accountability Plan (ReAP).

To provide an incentive for offenders to take advantage of these programs, a specified amount of credit toward early release is earned by eligible offenders for completing each program up to a maximum of 360 days of credit pursuant to LA R.S. 15:828(B). Successful participation and completion in these programs enable the (eligible) offender to release to probation/parole supervision earlier (and better prepared) and at a savings to the Louisiana taxpayer.

The Department maintains a comprehensive listing of all available Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Programs (CTRP) in a Catalog of Rehabilitative Services. For a complete list of CTRP courses offered, see Table 14, 15, 16 and 17: Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Programs by State Facilities and Table 02: Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Programs by Parish Facilities. The following is a brief list of the most common CTRP courses offered.

13. Anger Management

This program is designed to assist offenders in recognizing, addressing and appropriately handling their anger by providing them with skills necessary for behavior modification and anger management. Offenders learn how to identify causes of anger, body changes caused by anger, trigger signs, different styles of anger and healthy ways to express anger.

14. Financial Management / Solutions to Poverty

A 24-week intensive financial money management and solutions to poverty program that includes 10 modules of the FDIC Money Smart instructor-led curriculum and 14 weeks of “Getting Ahead In A Just Getting By World”. Money Smart includes basic financial literacy skills building in addition to how to improve your credit, getting loans and purchasing a home. The Getting Ahead curriculum is a 14-module evidence-based program that includes critical thinking skills and topics such as Theory of Change, The Rich/Poor Gap and How it Works, Hidden Rules of Class, Identifying Available Resources and Building Resources, Stages of Change, Creating Mental Models for Your Personal Path out of Poverty and a self-assessment to formulate a personal plan for a stable, prosperous life upon release.

15. Parenting

Offenders are provided a variety of information covering the following parenting issues: the responsibilities of parenthood, importance of a male/female role model, listening and communication skills, the importance of positive feedback, and appropriate discipline. Offenders are taught appropriate expectations of children by learning about the stages of child development, alternative behavior modification techniques without utilizing corporal punishment and how to avoid power struggles.

16. Risk Factor Management

This two phase group focuses on the risks offenders are likely to face after release that may lead to re-offending, understanding the definitions of the risks factors and then identifying them in everyday life.

17. Thinking for a Change

Thinking for a Change 4.0 (T4C) is an integrated cognitive behavioral change program that incorporates research from cognitive restructuring theory, social skills development, and the learning and use of problem solving skills. T4C is comprised of 25 lessons that build upon each other. The program is designed to provide justice-involved adults and youth, males and females and is intended for groups of eight to twelve and should be delivered only by trained facilitators. Due to its integrated structure, T4C is a closed group, meaning members need to start at the beginning of a cycle, and may not join the group mid-stream (lesson five is a logical cut-off point for new group members).

18. Education

Approximately 81% of incarcerated offenders lack a high school diploma or equivalent at intake, therefore making educational programming available to incarcerated offenders, as well as to offenders released to community supervision or placed on probation is a critical part of reentry. R.S. 15:828(B) requires the Secretary of Corrections to prescribe rules and regulations in the facilities and institutions under the Department's jurisdiction to encourage voluntary participation by offenders in literacy, academic (Adult Basic Education and High School Equivalency preparation), and career and technical education programs. The Department provides educational opportunities in the areas of:

- Adult Basic Education / General Education Development (ABE / GED)
- High School Equivalency Preparation (HSE-Prep)
- Literacy
- Special Education

The Department also provides special education programming through the Louisiana Department of Education Special School District to offenders who qualify by age criteria and have behavioral, emotional, and/or learning disorders as diagnosed by a Special School District diagnostician. These classes are offered in conjunction with other literacy, ABE, and High School Equivalency preparation programs according to the student's academic achievement level.

19. Job Skills and Employment Readiness

A significant percentage of offenders who enter prison are not employed at the time the crime was committed. The utilization of career and technical education programs by offenders will greatly improve their marketable skills.

- At the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola, highly-skilled offender mentors are utilized to enhance the training development in automotive and construction training classes to assist non-skilled offenders in attaining an Industry-Based Certification (IBC) in their chosen field of training. Certifications through the National Center for Construction Education and Research (NCCER) and the Automotive Service Excellence (ASE) are offered to offenders as they complete the training program to assist the offender in attaining employment after release.
- The Department partners with the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary (NOBTS) to offer offenders faith-based course work leading to an Associate or Bachelor's Degree in Theology. This program has proven to enhance the social and quality-of-life skills needed for this population.
- The Louisiana Transition Center for Women (Madison Parish) and the Lafayette Parish Sheriff's Detention Centers initiated a partnership with Ashland University, an accredited 4-year college in Ashland, Ohio in January 2016. Through a tablet-based (kiosk connected) program and on-site Ashland staff, offenders are able to enroll in an Associate Degree Program in General Studies. In the fall of 2016, Pell services were expanded to Bayou Dorcheat and Allen Correctional Center. Ashland University continues to expand into local jails where offenders qualify for Pell funding.
- In the fall of 2016, the Second Chance Pell Grant for the Pell Experimental Sites was granted to Ashland University, which included Louisiana as a partner. In the fall, Ashland expanded its services to Winn Correctional Center, Elayn Hunt Correctional Center, Louisiana Correctional Institute for Women, Dixon Correctional Institute, Louisiana State Penitentiary, Raymond Laborde Correctional Center, and Rayburn Correctional Center.
- Though a partnership with the Louisiana Community & Technical College System (LCTCS), offenders earn college credit in career and technical education. Career and technical education programs focus on the development of entry-level employment skills for offenders through classroom instruction and hands-on training. The Department offers the following career and technical education programs at various institutions:
  - Automotive Technology
  - Building Technology
  - Carpentry
  - Collision Repair
  - Computer Specialist Applications / Operations
  - Culinary Arts
  - Electrician / Electromechanical Technology
  - General Construction
  - General Studies Associate Degree
  - Heating / Air-Conditioning / Refrigeration
  - Horticulture
  - Job Life Skills
  - Masonry
  - Office Systems Technology
  - Offset Printing Operations
  - Plumbing
  - Upholstery
  - Welding

20. Substance Abuse Treatment

Approximately 78% percent of offenders have substance abuse issues that contribute to their criminality. The Department continues to develop collaborative relationships between outside treatment and prevention education, between outside treatment service providers and jail-based treatment programs, to assist offenders in developing a recovery base to enhance their safe and successful transition into society. Offenders are provided the opportunities to participate in a variety of substance abuse education programs including Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, Living in Balance, and Celebrate Recovery Inside.

21. Faith-based and Values Development Programming

The Department provides faith-based and character-based programs to offset criminogenic thinking. Faith-based programs can help offenders prepare for a successful reentry by establishing a spiritual foundation from which he/she can make sound, moral decisions. Offenders assessed as high or moderate risk require structured, cognitive-behavioral programs (such as Moral Recognition Therapy and Thinking for Change) to provide them with pro-social decision-making skills.

Corrections chaplains work with hundreds of volunteers that form the core of religious programming to support changes toward a pro-social identity. Trinity Broadcasting Network (TBN) offers positive, life-affirming television programming around the clock free of charge to all state correctional facilities. The Department has three Faith and character-based dormitory (FCBD) programs, aimed at maximizing the power of personal faith, reinforcement of pro-social decision making, and positive role models through mentoring.

Louisiana State Penitentiary became a model for other prisons systems in the country when it partnered with the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary (NOBTS) to open a Bible College on the grounds of the maximum security prison. The seminary, established in 1995, offers two college-level degree programs: a two-year associate degree in Pastoral Ministries and a four-year bachelor's degree in Theology. As many of Angola's offenders are serving life sentences, the Department sees their role in the reentry process as mentors helping other offenders transition back into the community. Some offenders who have earned degrees serve as missionaries and chaplains at other prisons to strengthen religious and moral programming.

22. Parish Facilities and Programs

In 2016, local-level (parish) jails housed approximately 50% of state offenders. Please see Table 11: Occupancy by Parish Facilities. While state correctional facilities have historically offered a variety of educational, vocational and other programming to offenders, offenders housed in local facilities rarely received the same level of programming. This is problematic for successful reentry, as state offenders housed in local jails account for approximately 75% of releases each year.

In 2014, the Department expanded reentry programs and services in local jails by assigning 20 Corrections Transition Specialists to those local jails housing the largest number of state offenders. These specialists conduct risk/needs assessments; provide CTRP instruction in programs such as Thinking for Change, Anger Management, and Parenting; and assist in transitioning offenders to the Regional Reentry Programs appropriate for them. These specialists create a more structured and evidence-based approach to assessing and addressing the needs of the state offender population housed in local jails.

23. Local Jail Literacy and Adult Basic Education Programs

Fifteen local jails and detention centers currently report adult education students to the Department. These local jails are in turn provided an instructor and resources to provide adult basic education to their eligible offender population. A number of other local jails partner with their local school boards to provide adult basic education opportunities for their offender population.

24. Transitional Work Programs

There are currently 28 transitional work programs (TWP) (9 contract and 19 non-contract) operating in the state of Louisiana with a total capacity of 7,314. Eligible offenders may enter a TWP from 6 months to 4 years prior to release from incarceration, depending on the offense of conviction. Generally, sex offenders are precluded from participation in the transitional work program. Offenders that are approved for the program are required to work at an approved job and when not working they must return to the structured environment of the assigned facility.

Probation and Parole officers are assigned monitoring responsibilities for contract TWP's. This may include conducting random drug screens and random shakedowns of the facility. Additionally, the Probation and Parole officer is part of the Auditing Teams that conduct annual audit of TWP facilities. The goal of TWP's is to assist offenders with making the transition from prison back into the work force. Approximately 10 to 20 percent of offenders remain with their employer upon release. The TWP is also utilized as an alternative for technical parole violators, in lieu of returning them to prison.

25. Community Corrections

Division of Probation and Parole / Adult

Probation and Parole has 21 offices located throughout the state. The offices range in size from 5 officers to 49 officers (New Orleans District). There are 511 officers allocated to supervise more than 72,000 probationers and parolees in the community, 99% which have felony convictions. Approximately 2,200 of the 72,000 offenders are convicted sex offenders, many of whom require specialized supervision, treatment and compliance with registration and notification laws. Probation and Parole officers also conduct major investigations for the Courts (Pre-Sentences), Parole Board (Pre-Paroles) and Pardon Board (Clemencies) (more than 2,700 in fiscal year 2015-2016). Probation and Parole monitors work release and cooperative endeavor agreement compliance on twelve work release facilities with a capacity of 1,221 inmates.

Probation and Parole Officers also arrest offenders for violation of the conditions of supervision (approximately 3,200 in FY 2015-2016), and approximately 525 violators were returned from out of state. More than 26 million dollars in fees, victim restitution, fines, court costs and other assessments were collected by this agency in the last fiscal year. The average caseload is 141 offenders per officer. Officers who supervise specialist cases (i.e. sex offenders) carry a reduced caseload, which means other officers may carry 160 or more cases. The Division of Probation and Parole/Adult is accredited by the American Correctional Association, earning 99% compliance with standards on the last audit in 2015.

26. Alternative to Incarceration

Data of Louisiana's offender population shows that offenders are most at risk of returning to prison within the first two years of release, often because they lack programs and services to achieve stability in their communities. As a result, the Department has established alternatives to incarceration. Probation and Parole officers refer probationers and parolees to a variety of programs in the community designed to address the issues they commonly face, including substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment, sex offender treatment, anger management, job training/skills programs and driving schools.

27. Alternative and Treatment Programs

Statewide alternative and treatment abuse collaborations have been developed to enhance the Department's reentry efforts. These services may be mandated as sanctions for offenders who commit technical violations and provide alternatives to incarceration, without compromising public safety.

1.	Concordia Parish Treatment Program (RSAT)                  26362 Highway 15 Ferriday, Louisiana 71334  Komonica Cook-Collins, LAC                  Phone: 318-757-1865 or 318-757-3320 FAX: 318-757-3277
Background Information:	-The Department introduced therapeutic communities into the state prison system by using federal dollars authorized through the federal Residential Substance Abuse Treatment program. Grant provisions require participants in these five to twelve month programs to be housed separately from the general population and take part in the individual and group treatment activities, designed to help them function responsibly when they return to the community. -This program utilizes a cognitive therapeutic technique designed to instill ego reduction and replace faulty reality orientation with new concepts and views.
Length of Program and Facility Capacity:	-40 Beds                  -150 Day Program                  -Operational since June 1997

April Baur, Director
Phone: 318-574-9997 FAX: 318-574-3240

Background
Information:

-Helping Women Recover: The revised edition of Dr. Stephanie Covington's innovative gender-responsive and trauma-informed program integrates theories of women's psychological development, trauma, and addiction. Contains evidence-based data as well as proven techniques to meet the needs of chemically dependent women.

-The comprehensive, seventeen-session learning package contains four modules with specific exercises that address the four topics that women identify as triggers for relapse: self, relationships, sexuality, and spirituality. These materials provide the information and tools counselors, mental health professionals, and program administrators need to implement a highly effective program of treatment for women's recovery groups in varied settings. Additional workbooks and pertinent information will supplement the program to fully address the needs and issues of women in recovery. Through the "Self" module the additional material used will be A Place Called Self: Women, Sobriety and Radical Transformation along with the A Place Called Self: A Companion Workbook both by Stephanie Brown, Ph.D. In the "Relationships" module the additional therapeutic materials will include: Free Yourself From an Abusive Relationship by Andrea K. Lissette, M.A., CDVC and Richard Kraus, Ph.D., But He'll Change by Joanna V. Hunter and Easy Does It, Mom: Parenting in Recovery by Barbara Joy. Other supplemental material that will aid in enhancing the LTCW Substance Abuse program will be A Woman's Way Through the Twelve Steps along with A Woman's Way Through the Twelve Steps Workbook both by Stephanie S Covington, Ph.D. Several other workbooks will be implemented into the program in reference to mental illness and addiction along with The Twelve Steps and Dual Disorders workbook. Within the portion of the core curriculum addressed Creating Healthy Relationship and Support Systems there will be family counseling sessions in order to develop and strengthen the bonds needed for a productive recovery upon release.

-Within the Helping Women Recover program, a portion of Living in Balance, the Louisiana Risk Management Module and the general principles of Moral Recognition Therapy which has been implemented at Forcht-Wade Correctional Center through their Mental Health Department have been implemented to enhance the program and the 24 needs of the participants. Upon completion each participant will also have an individualized relapse prevention/recovery plan that will be developed with the offender's input along with the guidance of the facilitator.

Length of Program and Facility Capacity: - 12 week or 9 month program tracks
- 36 Beds Per Track
- Operational Since December 2010

Admissions Requirements / Restrictions: -Recommendations by the sentencing court or Parole Board for these women to receive placement priority.
-Both tracks are closed groups, so courts should coordinate hearings and referrals to coincide with the beginning of a group to insure placement.
-Offenders with literacy issues need to complete Literacy prior to enrollment.

Background Information:

-The Intensive Incarceration Program is an alternative form of incarceration in which offenders are sentenced without diminution of sentence to not more than twelve months by a Drug Court or sentencing court during a probation revocation hearing. Potential participants are screened and assessed at the Steve Hoyle Intensive Substance Abuse Program (males) or Adult Reception and Diagnostic Center at Louisiana Correctional Institute for Women (females). If eligible and suitable, the offender is placed in a state institution best equipped to provide the programs to meet his or her identified needs.

-All state institutions offer cognitive-behavioral programs such as Thinking for Change, substance abuse programs such as Living in Balance, as well as educational such as Adult Basic Education, and vocational programs teaching marketable job skills. Those participants requiring more intensive substance abuse treatment are referred to the Steve Hoyle Intensive Substance Abuse Program or the Louisiana Correctional Institute for Women. Upon completion of the program, offenders are returned to the referring court and to probation supervision.

Length of Program and Facility Capacity:

-Minimum of 6 month program – Maximum 12 month

-No limit – available at all state institutions

Admissions Requirements / Restrictions:

-Admission into the Intensive Incarceration Program will be in accordance with the provisions of Department Regulation No. B-02-022. Offenders are eligible to enter Intensive Incarceration provided they meet the statutory and suitability criteria of the program, regardless of race, age, disability, creed, sex, or national origin.

-Recommended by the Division of Probation and Parole with the concurrence of the sentencing court and the positive recommendation of the Secretary or Designee.

-Screened, assessed and accepted for participation independently by staff at the ARDC at EHCC or LCIW.

-Sent independently by the court at time of sentencing.

-Sent by the sentencing court as a result of revocation for technical probation violation or by a Drug Court.

The Steve Hoyle Rehabilitation Program provides a therapeutic community approach to house, treat, education and support individuals with long-term, significant substance abuse issues. Both probationers and parolees can be referred. The program uses criminogenic needs assessments to match offenders to the best treatment available; provides evidence based treatment for substance abuse and subsequent problems with 3 tracts (3, 6 & 9) that are 12 months in length. The program requires each participant to be enrolled for a minimum of 3-12 months. The curriculum revolves around Intensive Substance Abuse Treatment (cognitive-behavioral), Victim Awareness, Risk Management, Relapse Prevention Anger Management, Parenting, and Reentry Programming. Services are funded and staffed by the federal Residential Substance Abuse Treatment Grant (RSAT), which is distributed by the Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement, and state general funds.

29. Day Reporting Centers

Staying on the straight and narrow during supervision can be difficult for some. Many individuals commit technical violations. Technical violators who face revocation and re-incarceration cause major challenges today. They consume valuable resources and pose a threat to public safety. Many of the violation issues stem from deep-rooted attitudinal, motivational and behavioral issues, as well as substance abuse, educational and employment problems.

The Day Reporting Center program will target some of these high-risk technical violators with a very structured approach for supervision, treatment and training. Effective Day Reporting Programs can alter the offender's negative attitudes and behavior through treatment and training, thus lowering recidivism and generating significant savings for taxpayers through lower incarceration costs.

Length of Program and Capacity:	-40 - 50 Participants (160 – 200 Annually) -90 Day Cycle -Operational Since February 2009
------------------------------------	---

The program includes random drug and alcohol testing, and requires offenders to be alcohol and drug free in order to progress through the various phases of the program. Depending on the assessment, participants will be provided case management services in areas that include but are not limited to educational, vocational, and/or employment training.

Additional programming includes but is not limited to:

- Substance abuse education and treatment;
- Adult basic Education and GED preparation;
- Life skills classes;
- Cognitive skills training;
- Parenting and family relations;
- Anger Management;
- Employment skills building and career development counseling.

As the participants progress through the Day Reporting Center Programming an aftercare plan is created which addresses critical needs as the participants move into independent living. Aftercare services includes pro-social family and community support, relapse prevention activities, pro-social cognitive decision-making, education and employment assistance and continued alcohol and drug testing.

The concept behind the Day Reporting Centers is to draw on evidence-based programming and best practices to intervene early with those offenders who are “on the brink” of being incarcerated. The program is more effective in metropolitan areas. The first of these centers opened in Orleans parish in February 2009 and the second center opened in August 2010 in Caddo Parish, Baton Rouge in March 2015 and Covington in July 2015.

30. Drug Courts

Drug courts are community intervention programs that evolved out of the need to address the common combination of criminal behavior and substance abuse. They involve supervised treatment, education, work programs and monitoring. Drug courts are planned, implemented and supported by the judiciary, prosecutors, defense attorneys, treatment providers, law enforcement officers and probation and parole officers. While there are drug courts operating in the majority of the Probation and Parole Districts throughout the state, all do not operate in the same fashion. Some have involvement from state probation and parole officers while others have their own probation officers with little to no involvement or interaction with state probation and parole officers.

31. Louisiana Prisoner Reentry Initiative (LA-PRI)

The Department was awarded the Justice Reinvestment Initiative - Maximizing State Reforms grant from the Department of Justice in 2014 to create and implement an automated risk, need, responsibility tool to inform structured decision making and identify criminogenic needs for all criminal justice stake holders. The Department partnered with Louisiana State University, School of Sociology to create and validate the tool, which was named the TIGER (Targeted Interventions Gaining Enhanced Reentry). The next phase of the project will involve automation of the tool, including integrating it with the offender case plan being developed in the Louisiana Prisoner Reentry Initiative

The Department partnered with the Michigan Council on Crime and Delinquency (MCCD) to engage in strategic planning and revision of the reentry case planning continuum known as the Louisiana Prisoner Reentry Initiative (LA-PRI). MCCD has worked with several states to improve objective assessment and decision making, as well as case planning and systems integration. An Implementation Steering Team (IST) involving staff from all disciplines and sections of the Department was brought together to work on the creation of a System Blueprint and Logic Model, as well as a Strategic Planning Framework for Prisoner Reentry.

The outcome of the work on the LA-PRI will be a unified Reentry Accountability Plan (ReAP) which will not only guide the offender and Departmental staff, but also other stake holders such as courts, the Parole Board, local jails, and community resource providers. This case plan will now improve pre- and post- release programming and intervention planning, as well as better inform structured decisions of the courts and Parole Board. The LA-PRI IST continues to meet on a quarterly basis to work on the ReAP and insure that it not only fully utilizes the TIGER, but informs the development and automation of the TIGER.
